

What advice would you give to someone considering an opportunity at Bank of America?

“Learning the processes is not your goal. ”

What is your current assignment and primary responsibilities?

Product controller for Strategic Investment Group desk. Currently doing finance work for the trading desk including: daily profit and loss analysis and attribution; various monthly accounting reconciliation; and market-to-market valuation verification and monitoring.

What is the most challenging part of your job?

The most challenging part of this job is that it requires me to touch base with almost every other department related to the trading business: trading desk; price valuation group; settlement team; core finance; and technology. Familiarity with the responsibility scope and general work flow of all these counterparties is a must.

I remain at Bank of America because...?

I like the warm and accepting culture of my team. People come from a vast variety of backgrounds, but we learn to leverage each other's strengths and differences, while being encouraged to be ourselves.

What is the best thing about living and working in your location?

The best thing about working in Hong Kong is the exciting and fast-paced modern city life. Everything you need—from your office to your personal living necessity, such as groceries, to night life—is within walking distance 24 hours a day. Even the most local residents here have learned to embrace the multiculturalism everywhere they go. You don't feel out of place being who you are here.

What advice would you give to someone considering an opportunity at Bank of America?

Learning the processes is not your goal. Be ready for a culture where status quo is questioned and challenged.

Louise

Senior Specialist
Chief Financial Office Analyst Program
Hong Kong

Education

Undergrad – Schulich School of Business
Degree – International BBA